Queensland 2011 Conference
(ICPAQ 2011).

The Conference will be held at The Sebel & Citigate King George Square Brisbane, Queensland, Australia, from 12-14 October.

The recently refurbished Sebel & Citigate Hotel combines elegant design with modern conferencing facilities. It is ideally situated in the heart of Brisbane City and just a short stroll from fabulous shops, cafés and restaurants.

The conference theme of “Helping Hands” will focus on the importance of Infection Control Practitioners helping each other by sharing knowledge and experiences to strive for optimal outcomes. Our Scientific Program will encompass key topics to highlight this and will include Infection Control and Prevention across various Healthcare settings.

We have an exciting social program lined up which will allow delegates the opportunity to network with colleagues and friends whilst enjoying the fantastic cuisine and entertainment Brisbane has to offer.

We look forward to seeing you at the ICPAQ 2011 Conference in Beautiful Brisbane.

Kind Regards

Your Host City

Brisbane could easily be described in one word – warm. Australia’s northernmost state capital, Brisbane is warm by virtue of its sub-tropical location and warm because of its people.

Disarmingly sophisticated yet paradoxically relaxed, Brisbane, located in Queensland’s south east corner, provides the perfect lifestyle. It has something for everyone. Known as Australia’s new world city, Brisbane leads the nation in innovation and discovery yet embraces a down-to-earth attitude that welcomes visitors with open arms.

With nearly 2 million local Brisbanites, the city is alive with attractions and things to see and do.

Dotted with museums of all styles, galleries covering a diverse range of art and a food-lover’s booty of fabulous restaurants, clubs and bars, the city can be a very tempting place. The locals call it paradise yet some even refer to their own town as Bris Vegas as there’s just so much fun to have during the day and late into night.
